FOREWORD

A NOTE OF THANKS . . .

Almost all that I am or hope to be I owe to my angels.

A Broadway show never opens without them. I understand a man never lives nor dies without them. And I could neither exist nor write without mine.

There are so many to whom I owe my being and seeing. The obvious angels of family and friends, co-workers and employers. The unseen ones which perhaps I only imagine but which are my angels nevertheless.

And the angels by accident. The strangers who become friends, the acquaintances who become important, the teacher, the wise doctor, the letters which come like wings to wrap me in courage.

I am no angel, but I would be unfair to my dreams and determinations to deny that what I am or what I become rests to some extent, and for better or worse, in my own hands. I cannot entirely will my wings or my demons to fate, destiny, or luck.

For opportunity knocks on an open door. Sometimes its hand has, for me, belonged to another but the door is mine. And there for us all are angels. The boy next door or the bus driver. The executive or the maiden aunt. And though each may be an angel in human clothing, we often see the shining halo only long afterward. I learned, better late than never, to recognize my angels. I found them by the faith they instilled in me, by the new confidence to try again, by the warmth and wisdom they brought to widen my world. Some of them were not angels to anyone but me and perhaps will not be so in the world to come. Yet, in their way, they have become a part of the sum total which is me. They have given me their gifts of understanding and tolerance for myself and for others. They have knocked on my open door and left me sorrow and laughter, and in both I found new knowledge. Never tell me there are no angels. I hear the rustle of their sheltering wings and the music of their trumpets each day of my successes. And, in the nights of my failures, they comfort me with their tears.

MRS. VERLA ALVAREZ

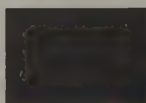

DEDICATION

The Senior Class of 1966 wishes to dedicate the 1966 LAMP to Mrs. Verla Alvarez.

We take this opportunity to thank her for her helpfulness and concern that she has shown to each of us. She was always willing to listen to our problems and give us a cheerful word of encouragement as we passed by her desk each day. She always greeted our guests courteously and graciously.

Thank you again for your interest shown to us and helping to make our three years here enjoyable.

PROFILES OF

A NURSE

WORK . . .

It is striving to find work you can love, a job to which you can harness your heart.

-- Wilfred Peterson

FRIENDSHIP . . .

A friend should strive to lift people up,
not cast them down; to encourage, not discourage; to set an example that will be an inspiration to others.

- Wilfred Peterson

GIVING . . .

We give of ourselves when we give the gift of time; when we are minute builders of more abundant living for others.

- Wilfred Peterson

SUCCESS . . .

Success is relative and individual and personal. It is your answer to the problem of making your minutes, hours, days, weeks, months and years add up to a great life.

FAVORITE ATTENDING PHYSICIAN

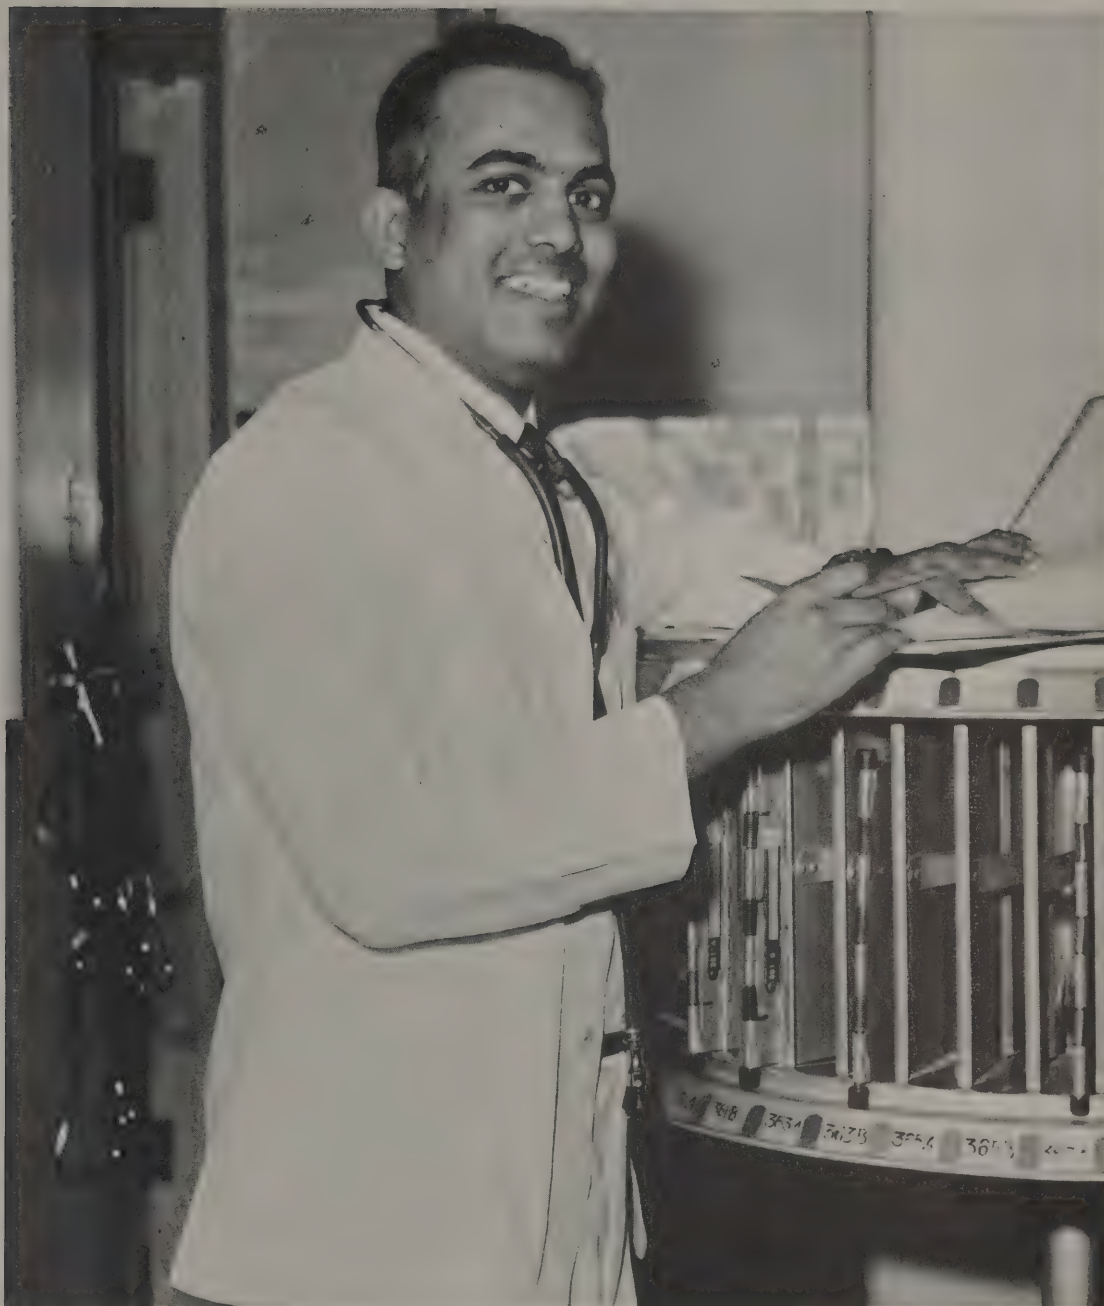

DR. NICKHOLAS KALORIDES

Dr. Nicholas Kalorides a good friend, advisor, teacher and Doctor. We wish to thank him for the valuable time he has spent talking with us, showing us something new and profitable and taking part in teaching some of our classes.

Dr. Kalorides studied at the Faculty of Medicine University of Thessaloniki. He is at present a practicing Obstetrician and Gynecologist.

We the Senior class wish to add our small laurel to his collection by selecting him Favorite Attending House Doctor of the year 1966.

FAVORITE HOUSE DOCTOR

DR. RAMMA PRAKASH

His bright smile, quick hello and quiet assured manner make both patient and nurse feel at ease. We, the Senior class, wish to salute Dr. Rama Prakash on being chosen Favorite House Doctor of the year 1966.

Dr. Prakash is from India. He studied Medicine at the Government Medical College Mysore University.

He is a fourth year Obstetrical and Gynecological Resident. After going to Dearborn, Michigan to study general surgery, Dr. Prakash plans to return back to India.

Our thoughts and best wishes will follow him in to his future plans.

Next year could be worth $35,000 to you.

If you're about to enter your senior year, there's a good chance it will ... but you must remain in school, and earn a high school diploma.

Who says so? The U.S. Census Bureau. Its figures show graduates earn about $35,000 more before they retire than those who drop out in the first three years.

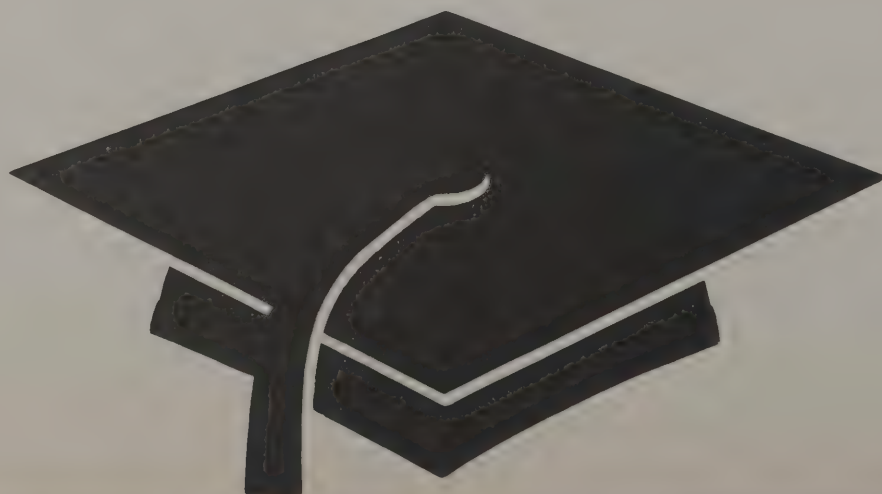

Sure, a diploma's no guarantee of a good job. But personnel managers do ask themselves: "If he didn't finish high school, how do I know he'll stick it out here?"

Remember. Unemployment among dropouts is twice that of the general population. And dropouts stay unemployed longer!

Yet, despite these disturbing statistics, three of ten high school students leave without diplomas. Some 750,000 high school students will quit next year.

Can you afford to be one of them?

The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton, Ohio.

The Pursuit of Excellence

A leading business firm uses as its trade mark an illustration of a hand reaching for the stars. They explain that you don't always get a star by reaching for one; on the other hand, you don't wind up with a handful of mud.
